To Whom It May Concern:

We recently hired Alter Ego 360° Virtual Tours to setup and design our website. Several of our recent projects were filmed for virtual tours and they have expanded our ability to show new customers our work. Visitors to the site can now learn about our company history, past projects and view 360° tours of our recent projects.

Costs for this service had been very reasonable and attention to detail and our specific needs have been excellent. Alter Ego introduced new ideas and expanded off of ideas our team had and constructed a great new site for our company.

Our website now also includes a password protected customer log in area which is beneficial to our construction business; Project Owners and Architects can now view on line construction progress and drawings for each project. The website and the virtual tours have greatly increased our ability to communicate our skills and services to new and existing customers. Alter Ego has been our best marketing investment to date.

Sincerely,

Jason Murray
President
